

Photographic Group Webmaster & Social Media Report to 2018 AGM

The transfer to HQ web hosting took a little while at a time when HQ Digital department were evidently quite busy. The transfer itself went very smoothly and I am pleased to report to members that www.photogroup.co.uk is fully under HQ hosting control.

The Wordpress development tool is a significant improvement compared to that I was using previously. There are features and add-ins yet to be exploited.

I took opportunity at new year to review and simplify the site and to introduce on-line forms for booking Meets and other purposes. These are working well and have reduced the administrative overhead for the Sites Co-ordinator.

Feedback buttons are now available on every page. Your feedback and suggestions continue to be welcomed.

There has been significant effort to provide the fuller Meet details on the 2018 Meets page and this will be maintained as the most reliable source of up to date Meet information.

The "sharing images" tab will direct you to the PG Flickr site - where member images can be viewed but you will need to join in order to upload your images and to post comments.

The AGM information is again available on the 2018 AGM page and Festival and Exhibition details will appear as available.

There is a link from the homepage to the News page where I shall attempt to regularly post items of interest - contributions welcome.

Membership of the new Facebook page is at time of writing 35. This represents an opportunity to update members and for members to exchange information. Do consider signing-up if you have not done so already.

John Hartill (Webmaster)